

DUCHY of CORNWALL

POUNDBURY FACTSHEET

The Masterplan

- ✓ In 1987 the local planning authority, West Dorset District Council, selected Duchy land to the west of Dorchester for future expansion of the town. As Duke of Cornwall, The Prince of Wales – who re-examined many of the precepts of urban and rural planning in his book 'A Vision of Britain', took the opportunity to work with the council to contribute an exemplary urban addition to this ancient market town.
- ✓ In 1988, The Prince of Wales appointed the architect and urban planner, Leon Krier, to prepare the overall development concept for 400 acres, within the line of the Dorchester Bypass - 250 acres of mixed-use buildings and 150 acres of landscaping. Krier is well known in Europe and America as a champion of traditional urban design. His challenge was to create an autonomous new extension to the town within the context of traditional Dorset architecture.
- ✓ In 1989, the Masterplan was exhibited at the Planning Weekend attended by The Prince of Wales, and the subsequent public comment was reflected in the scheme before planning consent was sought.
- ✓ The Masterplan divides Poundbury into four distinctive quarters. For development purposes, each quarter corresponds to a Phase. Construction of Phase 1 of Poundbury commenced in October 1993.
- ✓ Poundbury is being phased according to market demand and is expected to increase the population of Dorchester by about one-quarter (approximately 5,000 people) by 2025. As at the beginning of 2013, there were approximately 2,250 people living in Poundbury and 1,660 employed in 40 businesses. Poundbury is approximately one third built and is planned to grow to 2,200 homes by 2025.

Poundbury - Architecture & Urban Design

- ✓ Poundbury is not just about architecture, as is often thought. It is very much to do with creating a high-density urban quarter which achieves an attractive, modern and pleasing place in which people can live, work, shop and play. Emphasis is placed on the quality of design and materials, landscaping, and attention to detail - even down to street furniture and signage.
- ✓ The architecture at Poundbury is unashamedly traditional, using a variety of Dorset materials such as stone, slate and render. The architecture draws on the rich heritage of Dorset and, in particular, on the attractive streets of Dorchester itself.
- ✓ Many of the architects are based in Dorset. All architects work to a Building Code which regulates features such as roof angles and chimneys. Quality of design and workmanship is controlled by the Duchy through legally-binding Building Agreements with each developer before the freehold is released. Larger commercial buildings are generally sited for better vehicular access, but are designed similarly to frame their sites and create a sense of enclosure - disguising unsightly parking and equipment.
- ✓ Currently 35% of the housing is being built by housing associations for rental or shared equity ownership by people on the local housing list. Uniquely at Poundbury, the social housing is interspersed with, and indistinguishable from, the private housing, and some of the housing has also been designed for special needs or retirement.
- ✓ Parking is generally provided in landscaped courtyards at the rear which also incorporate housing and ancillary spaces for playrooms and workshops. Provision for these extra spaces recognises the increasing demands for flexible living arrangements and allows people to work from home.
- ✓ Poundbury demonstrates that it is possible to build high-quality, traditional housing at affordable prices, and provide new factories and offices on competitive terms within the context of radically different urban design.

Poundbury Phase 1

- ✓ Phase 1 is 18.5 acres (7.5 hectares)
- ✓ Planning consent for the first homes was obtained in May 1993 following extensive public consultation.
- ✓ There are 196 houses and 56 flats in Phase 1 including 55 social housing units rented through the Guinness Trust.

Poundbury - Phase 1

Phase 1 Section A (P1SA)

Homes (69): 35 rented through The Guinness Trust, 34 sold privately

Builders: Local builders, CG Fry & Son Ltd. of Litton Cheney, won the tender and started work in the autumn of 1993. Building was completed in the summer of 1996. All were sold and occupied at the time building works completed

Architects: Ken Morgan, Graham Saunders, Clive Hawkins, David Wren, Peterjohn Smyth, Neil Embleton, Willie Harbinson

Sheltered Flats (29)

Pummary Square

- ✓ Pummary Square forms the 'hub' of Phase 1, also linking through to the Victoria Park development to the east. The permeable network of roads, alleyways and parking courtyards in Phase 1 fan out from the hub to give immediacy to the facilities within the Square.
- ✓ The dominant building is the Brownsword Hall, designed by John Simpson, in the idiom of a traditional West Country market hall. The undercroft hosts farmers' markets on two Saturday's every month. The upper chamber is effectively Poundbury's community hall, managed by the Poundbury Village Hall Trust and hired out for community, private and commercial events (Please see contact sheet for booking information).
- ✓ The surface of the Square belongs to the Brownsword Hall and is used for occasional public and theatrical events as well as a car park.
- ✓ The other buildings fronting the Square are commercial on the ground floor and residential above. Significant buildings are the Poet Laureate Public House, Poundbury Village Stores, the Octagon Café, the Poundbury Clinic, and a number of small shops and services.
- ✓ Architects: John Simpson, Leigh Brooks, David Oliver, Ben Pentreath, Philip Storey, Andy Kunz.

Poundbury Phase 2

The second phase of the development was granted outline planning permission in October 1999, providing approx. 900 dwellings and 6ha of employment space over a 10year development period. Bridport Parkway, relieving Bridport Road, was constructed in 2006. As from 2005 the Duchy has provided 35% affordable housing in Phase 2. The focus of Phase 2 will be Queen Mother Square, scheduled for completion in 2012, providing further retail and commercial facilities. The Poundbury Barns Garden Centre was opened in 2006.

Phase 2 A-D – Pendruffle Lane

Phase 2, Sections A-D:

- ✓ Phase 2 Sections A-D is approx. 14 acres (5.66 hectares)
- ✓ These first four sections of Phase 2 were put to tender in August 1999
- ✓ The successful bidders CG Fry & Son Ltd. commenced work on site in June 2000 and works were completed in Spring 2004
- ✓ There are 196 dwellings of which 32 are affordable
- ✓ Architects: Clive Hawkins, Graham Saunders, David Wren, Ken Morgan, Charles Morris, James Gorst, Peregrine Bryant, Ben Pentreath

Phase 2 A-D - Netherton Street

Phase 2, Section E:

- ✓ Phase 2 Section E is approx. 19.3 acres (7.81 hectares)
- ✓ This section of Phase 2 was put to tender in December 2001
- ✓ The successful bidders CG Fry & Son, Morrish Builders and Westbury Homes Plc. commenced work on site in Autumn 2003
- ✓ There are 338 dwellings of which 68 are affordable
- ✓ Architects: Ken Morgan, Ben Pentreath, Clive Hawkins, Graham Saunders, David Wren, Nigel Anderson, Neil Embleton, Peterjohn Smyth

Phase 2 E – Peverell Avenue West

Phase 2 E - Residential

South West Quadrant

This 10acre site forming the remainder of Phase 2 is situated between the Bridport Road and Middle Farm Way with views towards historic Maiden Castle. Planning approval was granted in 2006 for 190 homes (of which 59 are affordable, including a mixture of shared ownership and rented accommodation), shops, offices and restaurants. The focal point of the development will be the Buttermarket with small retail units and workshops lining the square to provide an artisan flavour.

The development is being built by CG Fry & Morrish Builders.. The development is scheduled for completion in 2013.

Architects: Ben Pentreath, Jonathan Holland, Craig Hamilton, George Saumarez-Smith

Parkway Farm

Parkway Farm is a 2ha site south of Middle Farm Way. This site is being developed for heavier industrial uses (B2), which cannot be integrated with residential.

Weymouth College moved its Centre of Vocational Excellence in Stonemasonry Skills to Parkway Farm in 2008. Here in addition to stone masonry, students study traditional craft skills such as conventional construction techniques including plastering, wall tiling and plumbing.

Architect: David Oliver

Queen Mother Square

This Square, which will form the district centre of Poundbury, will commemorate Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth, The Queen Mother, and will incorporate a statue of her by sculptor Philip Jackson. The buildings have been designed by Quinlan and Francis Terry and Working Group Architects. The south side of the Square was completed in 2011. In 2010 construction started on the buildings at the west side of the square, incorporating a small Waitrose supermarket, other retail and restaurant space and 40,000ft.² of offices and flats in a building designed by Quinlan Terry, and built as a joint venture between Woodpecker Investments and the Duchy of Cornwall. Applications for the north and east side of the Square will be submitted at a later date and will incorporate a landmark tower as a focal point.

The new Waitrose store, the first 'Little Waitrose' in Dorset, offers produce from local companies and opened on the 17th of November 2011. There will be 100 underground carparking spaces for office staff with parking for visitors and shoppers at ground level.

Poundbury Phases 3 & 4

Outline planning permission was granted by West Dorset District Council in September 2011 for the remainder of Poundbury (44 hectares), which will cover the northern and western perimeters. This will include 1,200 dwellings, a replacement for Damers First School, and alterations to the Monkey Jump Roundabout (Dorchester Bypass).

The North East Quadrant

A detailed planning approval for the North East Quadrant was granted in 2011. This includes 505 units of private and affordable accommodation and employment space. The North East Quadrant follows the principles set out in previous phases of the development and taken up in the Poundbury Development Brief (published by West Dorset District Council in 2006 and available to view at www.dorsetforyou.com).

Sustainability

As part of the future phases of Poundbury the Duchy of Cornwall is proposing to develop increasing levels of sustainability, through further improvements in the energy efficiency of building, combined with on site production of hot water and locally generated electricity.

Many different methods of advancing carbon reductions have been explored. A Sustainable Strategy has been put in place as part of the Outline Application for Phases 3 & 4 of Poundbury, which states the Duchy's intentions for delivery of a reduction of carbon on a farm based Anaerobic Digester Plant which is the U.K.'s first commercial biomethane to grid plant.

Other sustainable technologies will be used as new solutions come to the market. Their incorporation will need to consider:-

- Maintenance of architectural quality without proliferation of 'bolt on technologies'
- System which can be installed to suit Masterplan layout & Building Code
- UK and European legislation and incentives are met
- Rate of build

Eco Homes

11 Eco-Homes have been built in a joint venture by the Duchy & Zero C (formerly Cornhill Estates)

- The average U value for the 5 houses & 6 apartments is more than 30% better than standard building regulations.
- 7 homes are privately owned & 4 are shared equity
- All houses are rated as BREEAM EcoHomes Excellent & NHER rating of 10

The Aims of This Venture

- To demonstrate that highly energy efficient sustainable homes can be commercially viable for the volume house-builder and can compete in the open market.
- To build commercially viable sustainable homes within the constraints of traditional British architecture.
- To build commercially viable homes with running costs that are at least 50% lower than equivalent homes built to the 2006 Building Regulations standards

Sustainability

Anaerobic Digestion – Rainbarrow Farm

At Poundbury the Sustainable Strategy focuses on Anaerobic Digestion with an AD plant situated at Rainbarrow Farm adjacent to the development.

A joint venture partnership was formed (J V Energen LLP) between the Duchy of Cornwall who required renewable energy to assist the Poundbury project development, local farmers from J V Farming Ltd. who needed more sustainable break crops and fertiliser sources, and Active Business Partnerships who helped to unite the project and formulate the business structure to take the project forward.

Rainbarrow Farm is the UK's first commercial biomethane to grid plant, generating enough gas to flow to 4,000 houses mid winter and 56,000 houses mid summer. Biogas produced at Rainbarrow Farm was first cleaned and injected as biomethane into the National Grid on 11th October 2012.

For more information please visit: www.jvenergen.co.uk

Poundbury Electric Bus

A regular 30 minute No 6. Electric Bus Service now operates from Dorchester to Poundbury (Monday – Saturday), connecting Dorchester town centre and South Station with the heart of development Queen Mother Square and Bridport Road. There are two electric buses in service and these are the first operational electric buses fired by sustainable electricity (from the Anaerobic Digester at Rainbarrow Farm) in the southwest of England.

Poundbury 4.00B Communal Biomass Boiler

Poundbury 4.00B is a mixed development of apartments, houses and commercial units with a total of 24 units being supplied by a KWB 100kW biomass wood pellet boiler with a 100kW gas back up.

The boiler, first commissioned in 2009, is in a plant room adjoining a block of 10 apartments. The biomass boiler heats the water which is held within the thermal store and upon demand is delivered to the units through a network of underground pipes.

Each house has within it a heat meter which takes readings of the flow rates and temperatures as the hot water enters and leaves the house and calculates the energy used which is then used for billing.

The Management Companies

- ✓ Currently there are three Management Companies MANCO 1 (Phase 1 of the development), MANCO 2 (Phase 2 Sections A-D) & MANCO 3 (Phase 2 Section E).
- ✓ Responsible for the upkeep of unadopted areas of Poundbury i.e. those areas not adopted & maintained by local council.
- ✓ MANCO covers resurfacing of unadopted courtyards, tree work, employment of handyman and satellite TV maintenance
- ✓ Residential and commercial occupiers are issued with shares (1 per household and 1 per 4,000ft.² gross internal floor space for commercial/retail)
- ✓ Annual charge is levied (currently £120 for MANCO 1, £150 for MANCO 2 and £130 for MANCO 3). Invoices & accounts are administered via accountants in Dorchester, Edwards & Keeping.
- ✓ AGM's are held annually and the agenda covers: appointment of new directors approval of accounts and previous minutes, issues affecting MANCO areas e.g. street lighting, road cleaning etc.
- ✓ The Guinness Trust appointed a Director to join the existing boards to represent their tenants at Poundbury.

Poundbury Residents Association

- ✓ Formed to represent the interests of Poundbury residents, whether owners or tenants & the community generally. It is run by a committee elected at the AGM each March.
- ✓ Open meetings are held quarterly in the Brownsword Hall, Pummery Square. Agendas cover a wide spectrum of topical interest central to the development of the community.
- ✓ The Residents Association issue a comprehensive newsletter to residents on a quarterly basis, highlighting events at Poundbury i.e. gardening competitions, Market Hall functions etc. It is also used to notify people of intended works around the development & to address common issues & concerns.
- ✓ The Residents Association receives a cheque annually from fees levied for guided tours of the development hosted by the Duchy of Cornwall (approx. 100 tours/annum) and volunteer residents.

Community

The carefully facilitated early involvement of the local community has helped to create a place with a community spirit, which meets people's needs, desires and aspirations, and engenders civic pride.

Encourages: A proactive, holistic approach to planning

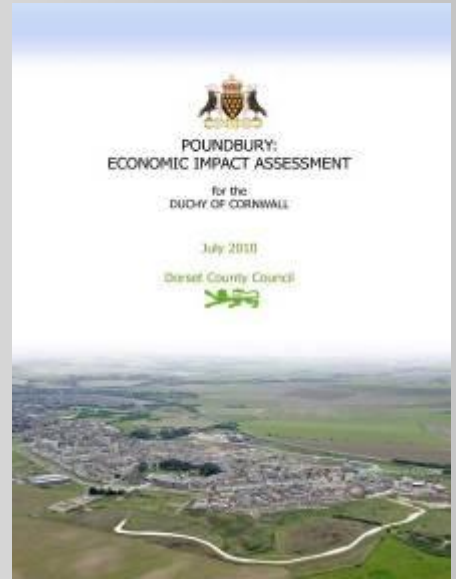

Discourages: A reactive, piecemeal approach to planning and a compromised result

Poundbury Economic Impact Assessment

In July 2010, Dorset County Council undertook an Economic Impact Assessment of the Poundbury development for the Duchy of Cornwall. This report summarised the impact of the development to date and a projection of its further impact once development is complete in 2025. The Assessment concluded that the development has considerable impact on the surrounding area in terms of employment, business growth and associated gains in household income and value added. Some of the findings are summarised below.

Should you require a detailed copy of the report, please contact the Duchy of Cornwall's Poundbury Office:-

E: poundbury@duchyofcornwall.org

Benefits for the economy from the development phases of the project include:

- ✓ approximately £834 million increased demand for local goods and services over the life of the project (direct impact about £33 million)
- ✓ which is equivalent to local GVA increased by about £285 million over the life of the project (direct impact £17 million)
- ✓ 4,700 people-years of employment (direct impact 3,000 people-years)
- ✓ 3,000 business-years including self-employment (direct impact 2,100 business years)

An estimate can also be made of the potential cumulative effects by the completion of the development:

Subject to no major change in the assumptions made, it can be estimated that on a permanent basis Poundbury will have added to the local economy:

- ✓ about £40 million increased demand for local goods and services per annum (direct impact about £33 million)
- ✓ which is equivalent to local GVA increased by about £19.5 million per annum (direct impact £17 million)
- ✓ 431 new full time equivalent jobs (direct impact 377 FTEs)
- ✓ 121 new businesses including the self-employed (direct impact 106 businesses)
